Statements according to the market

4Life has offices in 25 markets, and in each one of them the company must comply with local regulations in force. For this reason, there are some differences between the information you can find on the same product if you check out material issued from the United States* or from Europe.

4Life Europe belongs to AFEPADI (Spanish Association of Dietetic and Food Supplement Companies), which offers us guidelines for the correct development of our activity.
