Free radicals and antioxidants

What are free radicals and what causes them?

Human beings need oxygen to survive and to give them energy. Despite being necessary, in high quantities, oxygen can be toxic because it produces highly reactive substances (free radicals).

Antioxidants

To counteract the effect of free radicals, the body has antioxidant defence systems. Certain vitamins, minerals and plant components also help protect cells from oxidative damage.

What does Riovida provide?

Vitamin C helps reduce tiredness and fatigue, protect cells against oxidative damage and maintain normal immune system function. Contains ingredients from 6 fruits: grape, apple, blueberry, pomegranate, açai and elderberry. Contains 600 mg of 4Life Transfer Factor Tri-Factor Formula per serving. Low in calories.
